

Microbial PLFA was affected by seasonal changes. The response occurred for the entire major microbial groups; bacterial, actinomycetes and fungal. June had a negative effect on mole fraction, while there were increases in October and March. Biomarkers with the same letters for each microbial biomarker are not significantly differently at $p < 0.1$.

Treatment effect in October (0-5 cm depth)

